Our Learning

This week, the children have continued to write their Great Fire of London stories. We are trying to build up the children's stamina for writing so the more that they are able to write at home the better. In maths, the children have been working hard learning their number bonds to 10. If you are able to practise these at home with your child, this will really help them in all areas of Maths.

Next week, we are going to be burning our own Great Fire of London, unfortunately we weren't able to do it on Wednesday because it was too windy.

We are also going to be adding single digits using a number line and then using a number square. Some children write their numbers the wrong way round so if you are able to help them with this at home that would be brilliant.

Please can the children make sure that they bring their reading book and reading record to school every day.
