Our Learning

This week, the children have been working hard on their performance which we are looking forward to sharing with you next Thursday morning. In English, the children have been writing their own version of 'The Queen's Hat'. The children need to remember to take their time to think of their sentence and then read it back to make sure that it makes sense and that they have included a full stop. As part of STEM week, the children have taken part in maths workshops and a range of science activities all about 'Time'.

Next week, we will continue to work on our performance and the children will complete their stories. In Maths, we are going to be moving on to division so the children will be learning about the division symbol and sharing amounts. To help the children with division, it would be really good if they can continue to practise their two, five and ten times table as this will really help them.
