Our Learning

This week, in Maths we have continued to look at equal groups and the multiplication symbol.

In English, the children have been using powerful verbs in their writing and exploring the views from the London Eye, as well as creating artwork of famous London Landmarks.

In Art, we have been looking at observational drawing, colour and technique and different artists.

Next week, in Maths we are going to be working on the two, five and ten times table. We will then continue to work on sharing and grouping amounts.

In English, we will be using adverbs to describe how our characters are moving and exploring the Queen's inner thoughts at this point in the story, through drama-based activities.

We are going to be making shortbread next week which is really exciting. It would be good if the children could have a go at following a recipe at home.

This is a wonderful castle by Shazneen in Hawking.
