Our Learning

This week, in Maths we have been working on the two, five and ten times table. We have also continued to work on sharing and grouping amounts.

In English, we have been using adverbs to describe how our characters are moving and exploring the Queen's inner thoughts at this point in the story, through drama-based activities. Some classes have had the opportunity to make shortbread and the other class will do this next week.

Next week, the children are going to continue thinking about food. They will be tasting some different types of shortbread to see which one they prefer and they will be learning about which food groups are needed to have a healthy diet. The children are going to have the opportunity to taste some fruit and vegetables during this session.

In Maths next week, the children are going to continue to look at grouping and sharing. It would be really useful if the children can practise their two, five and ten times tables as much as possible at home.

In English, we will be discovering and writing the end of our story and then planning our own slightly different story based on what we've learned studying the Queen's Hat.
