Our Learning

English

We are really enjoying reading our new book 'The Happy Prince' because it has such beautiful illustrations. In our writing this week, we have used alliteration, similes and synonyms to describe characters and settings. We have also begun to include speech in our writing and we have practised using inverted commas. Next week we will explore how the pyramids were constructed in Ancient Egypt.

Maths

This week, our Mathematicians have explored connections between the 2, 4 and 8 times-tables. They have begun to link multiplying by 4 to doubling then doubling again, and multiplying by 8 to doubling three times. Next week we will begin multiplying a 2-digit number by a 1-digit number with no exchange,

History

We have started our new unit on Ancient Egypt and the children have already impressed us with their knowledge on this subject. We have been learning about the importance of the River Nile and how irrigation was used to grow crops.
