English

This week we have finished watching 'The Blue Umbrella' and we were delighted with the ending. In our sentence writing, we focused on using adverbs, positive adjectives and personification to describe the sounds of the vehicles in the street. Next week we will be writing our own love story between two objects we have created.

Maths

This week, our incredible mathematicians started learning all about bar charts and pictograms (Statistics). They have interpreted and drawn both pictograms and bar charts including discussions on the difference between the two representations of data. For bar charts, the children have spoken about the x-axis (horizontal line), the y-axis (vertical line) and the scales (values) that need to be considered before drawing it. To consolidate learning in Maths with different manipulatives and to help with visual learning, the children can explore MathsBot.com.

RE

This week we started our Sikhism RE unit. The children have been shown some Sikh artefacts and learnt about the values of the religion. They have explored popular Sikh stories such as the Milk and the Jasmine flower and learnt the importance of sharing such as the langar. Next week the children will learn about the Khalsa and the 5K's.
