Our Learning

This week, we have begun to read 'Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone' in our English lessons. We looked at the Hogwarts coat of arms in detail and the symbolism that can be seen in the design.

In maths, we have been exploring place value up to ten million.

On Friday, we took part in some 1950s style lessons as part of the school's 70th birthday celebrations.

Next week, we will be learning about the designers Gaudi and Hundertwasser and applying their architecture ideas to some work for a display about Diagon Alley.

In English, Harry will be continuing his journey into the magical world and will meet some of his magical teachers. The children will then be creating and describing their own magical teacher.

In maths, the children will be continuing to work on place value and applying their knowledge

Everyone has settled in brilliantly into their new classes.

Well done Year 6!
